AT THE HOD'S DESK:

Greetings from the Department of Management, Kristu Jayanti College, Autonomous. We are glad to release the new edition of newsletter “Spotlight” for the academic year 2021-22. At this culmination of another fruitful academic year it is my pleasure to make my remarks about the newsletter. The newsletter features various activities conducted during the academic year which aimed at developing the key managerial skills, communication skills, problem solving skills and entrepreneurial skills. The current edition of newsletter highlights the major activities and achievements of the department.

Some major programs to note include International Conference on “Embracing Change and Transformation”, Faculty Development Program on “Blended Learning”, Workshop on “Data Analysis using Spreadsheet”, and “Prodigy-2022” inter-collegiate management organised in the month of February, 2022. Apart from these programs we have also organised skill based activities, business plan presentation, workshop, intra-collegiate fest, HR Conclave and business quiz. The major activities were given due importance in the newsletter to share information with all the stakeholders.

The newsletter also proclaims the skill oriented activities like guest lectures, meet your alumni, club activities, industrial visits, and achievements of the students, value addition programs, international guest lectures and other minor activities of the department. We are happy to share that our department has made notable growth in terms of academic performance and research activities. Faculty members of the department have actively involved in research activities and published research articles in reputed journals proposals were made for minor projects.

We acknowledge the good work done by every member of the department and we sincerely thank our Principal, Vice Principal, Management Team and Dean for their continuous support and guidance to release this edition of newsletter.

I would like to appreciate editorial board lead by Dr. Jisha V.G. and her team for fabulous work done to launch this informative newsletter in time.

INNOVATIO 2022 – BUSINESS PLAN COMPETITION

The Department of Management organised “INNOVATIO 2022”, a business plan competition on 8th April 2022. The Business Plan Competition is intended specifically for final-year BBA students to give them a platform for refining ideas, encouraging entrepreneurship, and providing an integrative learning experience. The event was inaugurated by Mr. Sonal Shandalya, sales director of Schema Technologies Pvt. Ltd. and Rev. Fr. Joshy Mathew, Coordinator Department of English, Kristu Jayanti College, Prof. Surendranath Reddy, Head department of management was also present.

Rev. Fr. Joshy Mathew gave the presidential address, beginning by complimenting the management department for putting on such a magnificent event that allows aspiring entrepreneurs, to channel theoretical education into the pragmatism of the corporate world. He told the audience a Korean narrative that left them wondering, "What is the bigger reality - the sky or the ocean?" He then turned the story into a morality tale about the ocean being the greater reality because it reflects the reality of the sky on its surface, giving it a deeper meaning - the world always provides a surprise element of the greater reality in each pace of each person's life, which we all need to embrace.

Mr. Shandalya reemphasized Fr. Joshy Mathew's moral and also included the audience's perspective. POWER is something that everyone desires, and it can be obtained by simply exercising self-discipline in our daily life. Also, company strategies may or may not work at first, but everything falls into place if consistent efforts are made.

The competition entails judging the students' entrepreneurship abilities based on their own business plans. INNOVATIO is a three-round tournament in which teams compete against one other. Round 1: the best three teams from each class were chosen. Round 2: Entries were evaluated to choose six finalists from an initial field of eighteen. The top three winning teams are chosen in the third round. The competition seeks to provide a practical understanding of business planning, as well as to stimulate creativity and encourage a collaborative approach to new company ideas. Students can learn and acquire experience in identifying business ideas, exploring business possibilities, constructing the lean business model canvas, and creating a pitch deck by participating in a business plan competition. Using primary and/or secondary data to do market research and feasibility assessments; Present their proposal to both peers and academics; Communication and presenting abilities are being developed. Learning App, Emergency Service App, Retail Automatic Billing Trolley, and other business concepts were presented.

Valedictory for the INNOVATIO 2022 was held at 4.30 pm on the same day. Ms. Nikhitha Cherian, the event coordination welcomed the gathering. The valedictory session began with the feedbacks from the participants. Dr. Aloysius Edward, Dean, Commerce & Management, delivered the Presidential address emphasizing how this event is not really a part of academics, but rather a part of the career itself, as business plans are what an entrepreneur works on in the corporate world. He believes that if the top 20 business concepts are given the opportunity to connect with industry consultants and management, they will be able to rework and construct a far more viable proposal. As a result, the top 20 proposals were given the opportunity to collaborate with the Kristu Jayanti College's dynamic and exclusive incubation center. The valedictory was graced with the presence of Prof. Surendranath Reddy, Head, Department of Management and event coordinators Prof. Manjunath S, Dr Lillavathi and Prof. Vinod Joseph George, faculty members and final year BBA students.
